HOWARD.

Mrs. Job Forbes, formerly of near Armstrong, died Saturday morning at Sangern, Tex. Her husband survives her.

Mrs. Eliza J. Cloyd of Fayette, aged 84 years, a native of Virginia, died of apoplexy Tuesday. Seven children survive her.

J. S. Preston, Jr., of Armstrong was wounded on the shin bone Sunday while assisting in putting up a new stove in the depot at that place, a piece of iron fell upon him.

Col. A. Ward of Fayette who is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Earl Settle at Murphysborough, Ill., was injured last Wednesday night at that place by being knocked down by a railroad engine. The engine was backing and had Col. Ward been a half step farther he would have met death and mutilation under the wheels. The engine, as it was, knocked him into the cinders and rolled him from the track and scratching and bruising his face and head.

L. M. Collier, a pioneer of Howard county, died at the home of his son, William, of east of Armstrong Friday. Deceased was a native of Howard county and served in the Civil and Mexican wars. He is survived by six sons and was over 84 years old.

Bud Hayes, Jr., of Roanoke broke a bone in his hand last week by striking with his fist a threshing machine at which his horse frightened. Shortly after this happened Sam Smith rode up on horse back and his animal became so scared it died within a few moments, breaking a blood vessel.

J. Morrison Fuller, president of a bank at Glasgow was injured at St. Louis Wednesday by slipping on the icy pavement, fracturing his skull. Mr. Fuller is 50 years old and has lived at Glasgow for several years, surprising her citizens by some of his rather original actions. When Glasgow went dry he opened a palatial club, where he served drinks free in order to keep the town bustling and bustling. Lounging and reading rooms were also opened. So many person's accepted Fuller's hospitality that he was forced to close the club after a year. Fuller once took exception to the methods of a Glasgow banker. As a consequence, he opened, just across the street, a bank of his own which he called the Morrison Fuller bank. The editor of the newspaper happened to get himself in the category of those who did not run things to suit Fuller. As a result Fuller established a newspaper of his own and started to put the rival editor out of business. Fuller's wife is estimated to have possessed more than one million dollars at the time they were married. She lives at the Washington hotel in St. Louis. When Fuller visited St. Louis, however, he registered at the Southern hotel.

MARRIAGES.

Irvine Welch of Kansas City and Miss Lens Ridgway of Fayette.

LINN.

Miss Josephine Gaffney of Brookfield passed away Monday.

Mrs. Catherine Montgomery of Brookfield, aged 70 years, a native of Indiana, who has lived in Linn county since 1856, died Thursday at the home of her son, George E. of Brookfield.

While hunting quail Monday Frank Brown of Marceline fired his gun while in a stooping position. The gun kicked his knee forcefully enough to send him home limping as well as carrying a trace of quail.

The frame residence of Virgil Estes at Brookfield caught fire Monday and burned down. There was insurance of $1,100 on the house and furniture and the loss greatly exceeded that.

While quail hunting, near Brookfield, one day last week, Clifford, son of Dr. R. G. Waters, was struck in the left eye by a stray shot and was so terribly injured as to necessitate the removal of the optic.

Oscar Kaschmeider of Bucklin who has been working for some time with a bridge gang near Dean Lake stepped off into some crushed rock which slid with him and injured his hand by striking it against a bridge cap Thursday. A large abscess formed.

Mabel Jones and Opal Alexander, two girls of Linneus, aged 16 years, ran away from their homes Friday afternoon. "We had never seen a street car so made up our minds a year ago to-day to come to Kansas City," they gave as excuse for running away. The girls were taken in charge by a detective before they reached the station at their intended destination the police having been notified by telephone of their coming.

Twenty barbers at Brookfield have adopted a sliding scale of prices. They have decided that the man with a billiard ball head is entitled to some reduction. Ditto the man with the weeping willow whiskers. Woe to the clean shaven man with the football mop of hair! The prices stay up to top notch for him.

W. T. Stephens, an aged resident of Brookfield, fell a distance of eight feet Friday when the hand rail on a flight of steps gave way. His left arm was broken and he sustained other severe injuries in the form of bruises and scratches. As he alighted on his head and shoulders, it was at first feared that he might have concussion of the brain.

Free Child's Remedy

What mother is not looking for something that will help her children in the little ills of life, something for the stomach trouble and the bowel trouble? Long ago she probably has become convinced that a child cannot readily swallow a pill or a tablet, and that to "break them in half and crush them" is an annoyance; that usually they work too drastically, and are nauseating and too powerful for the little one's stomach.

Any mother who will take the trouble of sending her name and address can obtain a free sample bottle of a remedy that thousands of other mothers are using and now paying for. This remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the offer of a free trial bottle is open to any mother who has not yet used it. Having used it and convinced yourself that it is what you want, you can obtain it in the future of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing, the free sample being simply to convince you of its merits. It is the best way to begin on it. Mrs. L. Davis of 187 W. Harrison street, Chicago, and Mrs. Mary Belford, 1710 Coke street, Louisville, Ky., both started with a free sample and now they write that they have never been without a bottle in the house since.

It is undoubtedly a great family remedy, as it is adapted to all ages, being mild and pleasant to take and yet thoroughly effective. It is especially the ideal remedy for children and women and old folks, who need something pure, mild and natural. It has the advantage of being a thorough laxative and yet contains tonic properties. Use it for the most stubborn constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and such complaints with a guarantee that it will cure.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. I explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. E. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.
